A. APPLICATION OF TARIFF

This section applies to automatic mobile radio-telephone service furnished by this Company through its regular dial telephone exchange at Gibsonia, Pennsylvania.

B. REGULATIONS

DEFINITIONS

Radio-Telephone Service is a dial automatic communication service through a wire telephone exchange between a wire telephone and a mobile unit or between two mobile units.

Availability of Service

Radio telephone service is available to mobile units within a range of a base station through which such service is furnished and subject to transmission, atmospheric and like limitations.

Provisions of Equipment

The radio equipment and wiring on the mobile unit will be provided by the customer.

Undertaking of the Telephone Company

The Telephone Company's obligation to furnish service is dependent upon its ability to secure and retain suitable facilities and rights for the construction and maintenance of the necessary equipment, lines and wiring.

In connection with general service, the Telephone Company does not undertake to transmit messages, but offers the use of its facilities for communication between its customers.

- * This service is available only to existing customers as of April 13, 1997. This service will be discontinued December 31, 1997 or sooner, if the equipment necessary to maintain the service becomes unavailable to the Telephone Company.

Limited Conversation

The Telephone Company reserves the right to limit the length of conversation when necessary or in times of emergency, in order to improve on the overall efficiency of said service.

Liability of Telephone Company

In view of the fact that the customer has exclusive control of his communications over the facilities furnished him by the telephone company and of the other uses for which facilities may be furnished him by the telephone company because of unavoidsableness of errors incident to the services and to the use of such facilities of the telephone company, the services and facilities furnished by the company are subject to the terms, conditions and limitations herein specified.

In the event of an interruption to the service, which is not due to the negligence or willful act of the customer, there will be allowed a pro rata adjustment of the monthly guarantee, and of any fixed monthly charges involved, for the service and facilities rendered useless and inoperative by reason of the interruption, during the time said interruption continues in excess of twenty-four hours from the time it is reported to the telephone company or detected by the Company. For the purpose of administering this regulation, every month is considered to have thirty days.

- * This service is available only to existing customers as of April 13, 1997. This service will be discontinued December 31, 1997 or sooner, if the equipment necessary to maintain the service becomes unavailable to the Telephone Company.

Advance Payments

Applicants for mobile telephone service who have no account with the telephone company or whose financial responsibility is not a matter of general knowledge, may be required to make advance payments at the time the application is signed, equal to the installation charges for the service provided.

The amount of the advance payment is credited to the customer's account on the first bill rendered under the contract.

Payment for Service

The customer is responsible for payment of all charges for facilities and services furnished the customer, including charges for services originated, or charges accepted, at such facilities.

Use of Radio-Telephone Service Facilities

The service is intended only for communications in which the customer has a direct interest and shall not be used for any purpose for which a payment or other compensation shall be received by him from any other person, firm or corporation for such use, or in the collection, transmission or delivery of any communication for others.

- * This service is available only to existing customers as of April 13, 1997. This service will be discontinued December 31, 1997 or sooner, if the equipment necessary to maintain the service becomes unavailable to the Telephone Company.
